Law & Humanities Workshop : "Genetics, Privacy and Literature"

The conference "Genetics, Privacy and Literature" will be held on Wednesday 3rd May, at 6pm in room 214 of the Assas building of Université Panthéon-Assas.

For its last workshop of the semester, CERSA, Law and Humanities, and the Pôle langues of Université Panthéon-Assas are delighted to welcome Ellen Clayton, Professor of Law and Craig-Weaver Professor of Pediatrics, Vanderbilt School and Jay Clayton, William R. Kenan, Jr. Professor, Department of English and Director of the Curb Center for Art, Enterprise, and Public Policy.

The conference programme is the following :

- > Ellen Clayton: "Privacy in our Genomic Future - A View from the US" (commentator: Jennifer Merchant, Université Panthéon-Assas)
- > Jay Clayton: "Data in Dystopia: The End of Privacy in Contemporary Literature and Film" (commentator: Yvonne-Marie Rogez, Université Panthéon-Assas)

E-mail registration is required for people who are not members of CERSA or of Université Panthéon-Assas (staff and students).

Ellen Wright Clayton is an internationally respected leader in the field of law and genetics who holds appointments in both the law and medical schools at Vanderbilt as well as the Center for Biomedical Ethics and Society. She has published two books and more than 150 scholarly articles and chapters in medical journals, interdisciplinary journals and law journals on the intersection of law, medicine and public health. In addition, she has collaborated with faculty and students throughout Vanderbilt and in many institutions around the country and the world on interdisciplinary research projects, and helped to develop policy statements for numerous national and international organizations. An active participant in policy debates, she has advised the National Institutes of Health as well as other federal and international bodies on an array of topics ranging from children's health to the ethical conduct of research involving human subjects. Professor Clayton has worked on a number of projects for the National Academy of Medicine, of which she is chair of the Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, and was chair of its committee to define myalgic encephalomyelitis/chronic fatigue syndrome. She is currently co-chair of the National Academies' Report Review Committee. She is an elected Fellow of the American Academy for the Advancement of Science.
